Look back at the information you have learned in Mission 2 and write a report to Commander Spud Goodroot answering the following questions:

1. What are the major parts of plants and what do these parts do?

2. What are four parts of plants that you can use to grow new plants?

3. How do plants and humans depend on each other to live?

4. If you had to decide right now three plants to take with you to the Moon, which would you take and why?
