CHAIR’S REPORT- TOM CABANISS
Chair Cabaniss began by providing an overview of NC State’s COVID-19 decisions during the fall semester. On August 20, NC State announced that all undergraduate courses would move to online instruction starting August 24. At the time of the announcement, three clusters of COVID-19 cases had been identified in off-campus housing, and over 500 people were in quarantine. On August 26, NC State announced that on-campus housing would be significantly reduced due to the rapid spread of COVID-19 in on- and off-campus apartments and residences. Students were allowed to apply for exceptions to remain in on-campus housing if needed. Classes on August 31 and September 1 were canceled to provide students with additional time to transition to their new living arrangements. University leadership extended the deadline known as Census Date, which was originally scheduled for August 21, to August 28. This change allowed students and their families to make informed decisions about their class schedules, housing arrangements, and financial matters. It also provided campus personnel more time to work with those individuals to identify cost-effective solutions that keep students’ academic progress intact.

Chair Cabaniss also shared updates from the Board of Trustees of the Endowment Fund (Endowment Board)’s meeting on September 10, 2020. At the meeting, the Roles and Responsibilities of the Endowment Board were reviewed. The review included the history of the Endowment Fund, key attributes, and UPMIFA provisions. Plans were made to have an Endowment Board retreat in October. The minutes from February 2020 were approved. Vice Chancellor Charles Maimone presented gifts and other additions on behalf of the Chancellor for the Endowment Board’s acceptance. The Endowment Board accepted new gifts and other additions of approximately $11.9 million received between January 1 and June 30, 2020.

The Endowment Board also accepted the Endowment Fund’s 2020 Annual Report. The Endowment Fund reported total net assets of $511.5 million at June 30, 2020, an increase of 2% over the prior year. The increase for fiscal 2020 includes $9 million of net investment gains and $15.6 million in contributions and matching gifts, offset by $14.3 million of expenditures and transfers.

University Treasurer Mary Peloquin-Dodd provided an update on the Endowment Fund investment portfolio. At June 30, 2020, the Fund had $379.1 million in investments in the NC State Investment Fund compared with $372.5 million at June 30, 2019. The Endowment Fund is the largest participant in the Investment Fund. The Investment Fund returned 2.1% for the 12 months ending June 30, 2020, a median level performance relative to other endowments. The three and five year average annual returns of 6.9% and 6.2%, respectively, place it in top quartile performance among the largest university endowments. The Endowment Board also heard an update on the Investment Fund’s strategic asset allocation, performance of various asset classes in the portfolio and long-term liquidity.

Associate Vice Chancellor Alicia Knight presented an update on programmatic and enhancement real estate assets held by the Endowment Fund. There are 79,800 acres of real estate assets held by the Endowment Fund for programmatic purposes. There are also 99.3 acres that are considered enhancements and produce ground rent income, of which 75 acres are on Centennial Campus. The Endowment Board heard the status of endowment income generated by ground leases, and an update on plans for the Innovation District on Centennial Campus.

The Endowment Board heard a report from Vice Chancellor Brian Sischo on University Advancement and a campaign update. The Campaign raised $1.77 billion as of June 30, 2020 and will continue through December 2021. Campaign milestones and other campaign accomplishments were discussed. The Endowment Board was provided a brief overview of the upcoming Day of Giving, set with a theme of “Stronger as a Pack” for September 16, 2020, and heard information on the Extraordinary Opportunity Scholarship Initiative and how it is supporting students.

The Endowment Board received an activity update from Dean Myron Floyd on financial activities at Hofmann Forest. Monetization efforts continue with solar farming, mitigation bank credits, and leases. The Endowment Board then convened to Executive Session to hear a report on sensitive property matters related to development on Centennial Campus.

Chair Cabaniss reported that each year the ACC requires University Board of Trustees to certify that the authority for the Administration of Intercollegiate Athletics has been delegated to the Chancellor. Mr. Cabaniss made a motion, seconded by Mr. Ed Weisiger, to approve the ACC Governing Board Certification for 2020-2021. The Board voted via roll call and the motion passed unanimously.

Chair Cabaniss also shared proposed changes to the Board of Trustees Bylaws that were discussed in the Executive Committee meeting earlier that day. The first proposed change is to eliminate the position of Second Vice Chair and add one trustee nominated by the Chair to serve at-large to the Executive Committee. With this change, the First Vice Chair would become the Vice Chair, but their duties would remain unchanged. The second proposed change is adding language to clarify the inclusion of the immediate past Chair on the Executive Committee. The past Chair would be included for their first year after their term as Chair. If no immediate past Chair is eligible, then an at-large member would be included. The final proposed change would affect the Nominating Committee Guidelines in the bylaws. The change encourages the committee to clarify that a trustee may serve a term as Chair for two consecutive one-year terms, and encourages the principle of continuity of leadership.

To coincide with the nomination and election of officers, these proposed changes would become effective as of July 1, 2021. The revised bylaws would then apply to the election of officers for the term beginning on July 1, 2021. These proposed changes will be on the slate for the November meeting and copies of the proposed changes will be made available with the meeting materials.

CHANCELLOR’S REPORT – DR. RANDY WOODSON
Chancellor Woodson began his remarks by thanking NC State staff for all of their hard work in light of the COVID-19 pandemic, highlighting faculty, staff and volunteers in Housing and Dining, Student Health Services, and Emergency Mission Management and Continuity who helped support students and plan for the fall reopening. The safety measures NC State implemented for the fall semester were quite effective for limiting spread among faculty and staff. There has been very little community spread related to on-campus locations. Despite the changes to online instruction for undergraduate students and reduced on-campus housing, campus operations remain widely unchanged. NC State Libraries, Talley Student Union, Carmichael Gym, Student Health Services and the Counseling Center continue to provide services for the campus community.

Chancellor Woodson then shared some recent rankings and recognition for the university. Money Magazine ranked NC State as the best value for students attending a public university in North Carolina on their “Best Colleges for Your Money” list, which ranks schools based on a combination of educational quality, affordability and alumni success. Overall, NC State ranks 35th on the list of 739 public and private colleges across the United States. NC State was also ranked recently as one of the top 10 places to work in the state of North Carolina, according to a survey conducted by Forbes and the market research company Statista. NC State was recognized as the ninth-best place to work in North Carolina, with SAS coming in first.

The Chancellor closed his remarks with noteworthy campus updates. The search for the next Vice Chancellor and Dean for the Division of Academic and Student Affairs resumed after postponing the candidate interviews originally scheduled for March 2020. Candidate interviews began last week and will be completed by the end of September. NC State’s Day of Giving is next week. On September 16, we hope to rally the spirit of the Wolfpack community to support our students in need. “NC State Day of Giving: Stronger as a Pack” is focused on raising funds for scholarships, diversity and inclusion efforts, and enhancement funds. NC State continues to make progress on its racial equity initiatives. Diversity, equity and inclusion training is being incorporated into all staff work plans and a requirement for senior administrators and members of the Strategic Planning Executive Steering Committee. Planning continues for NC State’s Racial Equity Summit, which will be held on October 15.

UNIVERSITY AFFAIRS COMMITTEE – CHAIR DEWAYNE WASHINGTON

Mr. Washington reported that the Committee reviewed the responsibilities and plan of work for this fiscal year.

Under the Consent Agenda, the Committee approved the following items: minutes of the July 15, 2020 meeting; continuation of three Centers - The Ergonomics Center of North Carolina, the Center for Educational Informatics (CEI) and the NC Sea Grant College Program (NCSG); designation that a Distinguished Professorship may be awarded on a time-limited basis and; conferral of tenure to a new faculty member.

The Committee also recommended approval by the full Board of the request to discontinue two degree programs – the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture and the Bachelor of Science in Turfgrass Science. The Bachelor of Landscape Architecture Program admitted the last students in Fall 2012 due to low enrollment at the time. Faculty, staff and students were informed of the closure of the Program in 2011, and the program fully closed when the last student graduated in 2016. The department still offers a Master of Landscape Architecture (MLA) degree and a Landscape Architecture Minor. The Department of Crop and Soil Sciences requests the discontinuation of the Turfgrass Science degree. The structure was moved to a new Turfgrass Science concentration under the BS in Crop and Soil Sciences degree. The Department has stopped admitting freshmen and transfers while allowing students currently enrolled in the program to complete the degree by June 2025. New students will be admitted to the Turfgrass concentration under the Crop and Soil Sciences degree.

Mr. Washington made the motion, seconded by Mrs. Goodnight, to approve the Request to Discontinue the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture and the Bachelor of Science in Turfgrass Science degree programs. Chair Cabaniss called for a vote by roll call:

CHAIR OF THE FACULTY – HANS KELLNER

Chair Hans Kellner submitted a written report for the Board of Trustees. This was shared with all Trustees via email following the meeting.

CHAIR OF THE STAFF SENATE – PAT GADDY

Chair Pat Gaddy reported that the Staff Senate was established in 1995 and is celebrating 25 years of service to the NC State community this year. While the Staff Senate recognizes the many accomplishments in their past, they are taking action for the future as they continue to stand on the core values of NC State – integrity, freedom, respect, responsibility, stewardship, excellence – in all their endeavors.

While COVID-19 has made this year particularly challenging, Staff Senate continues to enhance, enrich and encourage a sense of community among all university staff employees. The following outlines some of the key initiatives and activities of the Staff Senate since April:

- Staff Senate Connections, the monthly newsletter, included Coronavirus resources for campus as well as the NC State extension office.
- Staff Senate continue to advertise, promote and support Wolf Pack monthly lunch and learn via Zoom.
- Staff Senate issued a Statement offering their support of the statements presented by Chancellor Woodson and Sheri Schwab, Vice Provost for Institutional Equity and Diversity, in regards to racial injustice. They encouraged members of the senate and all staff at NC State to be active citizens in addressing systemic racism and acts of injustice, both at our university and abroad. They are looking forward to taking part in continued dialogue and action that leads toward a more inclusive and welcoming Wolfpack community.
- Staff Senate virtually held the 2020-2021 elections for officers and committee chairs. This year brought 49 new senators and 31 returning senators to the Senate.

The motto for the staff senate this year is “NC State Staff Senate, Leading Together during a Time of Change. We are the Change!” Some of the ways Staff Senate continues to lead and promote inclusiveness and transparency among the staff are: by continuing to participate and be included in leadership discussions as they bring staff concerns to the table; educating staff as much as possible on university processes, so that they can make more informed decisions about the efficiency and effectiveness of their work; and reminding them that the Staff Senate is alive, well, constantly working on their behalf.

Chair Gaddy highlighted the “Give a Shout Out to Staff” program as one of the most successful of the Staff Senate’s initiatives over the last 25 years. This initiative was started by the Staff Senate in the fall of 2011 and is still going strong. Each month, staff are recognized by peers in the Staff Senate Newsletter. During this season of the pandemic, this has been a tool most often used to recognize our staff members who are and the work they have been doing.

Chair Gaddy concluded her report by saying the Staff Senate is looking forward to all the opportunities they will have this year to affect change.

With no further business in open session, Mr. Cabaniss made the motion, seconded by Mr. Harrell, at 10:43 a.m. to go into closed session to: preserve the attorney client privilege while discussing matters related to Alston v. UNC et al and Gottfried vs NC State; prevent the premature disclosure of an honorary award or scholarship; and to consider the qualifications, competence, performance, condition of appointment of a public officer or employee or prospective public officer or employee.

On October 22, 2020, NC State announced that the spring semester would begin on Tuesday, January 19, 2021 – one week later than originally planned. This allows more time to implement a robust COVID-19 testing strategy for students returning to campus. Additional changes were made to the time built-in for spring break. Many members of the NC State community expressed concern at having a week for spring break. Instead of the full week, there will be four wellness days spread throughout the semester. These days are intended to provide a respite for our community, and faculty will be instructed to avoid any deadlines or tests on days following these breaks. Exams will take place May 3-10 with a Reading Day and two weekend days set aside for breaks. Spring commencement is scheduled for May 15.

Virtual Commencement Announcement
NC State announced that a virtual Commencement Ceremony will be held on Friday, December 4, 2020 at 6 p.m. This event will celebrate Fall 2020 graduates and students who graduated in Spring 2020. University administrators and distinguished guests will address the Class of 2020. The event will also feature graduates, their families and loved ones, and NC State faculty and staff. Graduates, their families and loved ones, and NC State faculty and staff are encouraged to submit videos and photos by October 30, 2020 on the virtual commencement website: virtual.commencement.ncsu.edu. Some of these videos and photos will be featured in the virtual ceremony.

Racial Equity Summit
NC State hosted its first Racial Equity Summit on October 15, 2020. The Summit brought together NC State faculty, staff, students, community members and alumni who shared input on how the university can address specific issues and broader themes to improve racial equity at NC State. The Racial Equity Summit is part of a series of initiatives at NC State to support the university’s mission to make its campus a more diverse and inclusive campus. Additional information about the Racial Equity Summit and the university’s racial equity initiatives can be found online on our diversity portal: ncsu.edu/diversity/
NSF Grant for Crop DNA Replication Research
Two faculty members in the Department of Plant and Microbial Biology were recently awarded a $3.3 million grant from the National Science Foundation’s Plant Genome Research Program. The grant will allow Drs. Linda Hanley-Bowdoin and Bill Thompson to continue their work investigating how plants control DNA replication and how this can influence agronomic traits. Their work has implications for agriculture as well as genomics research. This group is the only one working on DNA replication timing in actively growing and developing tissue, which provides them the opportunity to gain insight into fundamental questions. Through the grant, they also plan to make a difference in the lives of students. They hope to hire one undergraduate student in their lab during the academic year in addition to supporting an existing program that provides summer research experiences to undergraduate and high school students.

American Humane Nonprofit Recognizes Long-time CVM Member
Julie Nettifee was named an American Humane Veterinary Nurse Hero as part of a national competition sponsored by Zoetis Petcare and in coordination with the nonprofit organization American Humane. Julie has worked at NC State for over 20 years in a variety of roles, including supporting clinical research and faculty-clinicians and education DVM students. Currently, she is focused on research and clinical support for the College of Veterinary Medicine and the NC State Veterinary Hospital. She was one of five finalists to receive this honor, which recognizes the dedication of veterinary workers and the lives that they have changed. American Humane is dedicated to animal welfare and supporting the human-animal bond.

C3 Program Gets 11th Partner School
NC State’s Community College Collaboration (C3) program gained a new community college partner last month. James Sprunt Community College, located in Duplin County, signed a memorandum of understanding with NC State to become the 11th community college partner in the C3 program. The C3 program is a dual-enrollment, dual-admission program that gives students at partner NC Community Colleges a clear pathway to a four-year degree from NC State. Individual advising by NC State advisors – while students are still at the community college – helps students navigate the transfer process more easily. Students also have early access to degree planning tools, which allows them to see how courses in the Associate Degree will meet NC State’s degree requirements.

Members Present: Ed Weisiger, Committee Chair
Ann Goodnight
Stan Kelly
Ven Poole
Dewayne Washington
Tom Cabaniss, Board Chair

Chair Weisiger called the meeting to order at 3:15 p.m. The roll was called and a quorum was present.

Chair Weisiger reminded those in attendance that this was a public meeting but was not a meeting for public comment. Only those included on the agenda are invited to speak. He then read the State Government Ethics Act to remind all members of their duty to report conflicts of interest or appearances of conflict.

Chair Weisiger complimented the Chancellor and the University on its response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Responsibilities of the Committee
The committee reviewed and discussed its responsibilities as per the bylaws, this year’s agenda, and the draft plan of work for the year. The four key areas of committee authority are audit, finance, risk management, and policy development for institutional trust funds, campus security and information technology and cybersecurity.

Approval of Minutes
The minutes from the April 23, 2020 meeting were presented for approval, and with no changes, they were approved.

Action Items
The Committee was presented with the Internal Audit Charter for review and approval, as required by state law, BOG policy, and the Institute of Internal Auditors’ International Professional Practices Framework. The Charter is a formal document that defines the Internal Audit Division (IAD) mission, scope of work, accountability, authority, and responsibility. The Charter must be reviewed and approved annually by the Board of Trustees. There were no changes from last year. Mr. Kelly made a motion to accept the Charter as presented, Mr. Poole seconded, the Charter was approved.

Informational Reports

Internal Audit Update
The process for risk assessment and development of the Annual Internal Audit Plan, the Fiscal Year 2020 NCSU IAD Annual Report, and the Fiscal Year 2020 Year End Summary were reviewed. Topics included: IAD performance metrics and achievements towards the University strategic goals, status of engagements against the Audit Plan, the increase in risk assessment interviews conducted, and the increase in hotline allegations received and investigated. In fiscal 2020, there was more follow-up due to the number of reports issued. There were 45 engagements and 44 corrective actions resulting from reports issued. The quarterly update on Internal Audit activity since the last meeting was also presented. Current activities include three reports being drafted, two audits, four investigations, eight follow-ups and one special assignment. IAD is also following up on 24 corrective actions resulting from seven audits.

Legislative and Budget Update
The Committee was provided a recap of the 2020 short session. The General Assembly focused on allocation of unappropriated CARES Act funding including UNC System Office requests and the Governor’s proposed budget. Future activities to be watched include the state's fiscal outlook and the results of the November elections.

The Committee also heard about budget conditions, including significant impacts on auxiliary service revenues and plans to address the drop in revenue. Tuition and fees and State appropriations remain stable with enrollment remaining strong, except for a slight drop in graduate students. The financial health of the institute remains strong. The University will be using a prioritized approach to reduction planning, employing budget planning principles.

Finance Update
A report was given on the recent refinancing, which took advantage of low interest rates and created a savings of $26 million. Two major rating agencies affirmed NC State’s high rating and stable outlook. The University is positioned to maintain debt payments, despite short-term fluctuations in the auxiliaries. A comparison of total university revenue and expenses over a 10 year period was given. In addition, the Committee was updated on the fiscal 2020 income statement which showed a reduction in total revenue of 1.6% and an increase in total operating expenses of 2.8%. The University’s liquidity and operating cash and ability to maintain institutional support was also addressed. Chair Weisiger referenced the additional financial reports in the pre-materials under Tab 4.4.

Enterprise Risk Management and Compliance Update
A summary of recent activities on compliance and enterprise risk management included changes to NCAA – post COVID, Title IX, foreign gift and contract expanded reporting, and Department of Education authorizations for distance education. The University is monitoring CARES Act reporting, certification and compliance obligations and other items related to COVID-19.

The Committee was introduced to Kristen Meeks, the recently hired University Compliance, Ethics, and Enterprise Risk Management Officer. Ms. Meeks reviewed activities she has been working on and plans going forward to facilitate and ensure university compliance.

Adjournment
With no further business, Chair Weisiger announced the meeting adjourned at 4:39 p.m.

NC State University, Division of Environmental Health and Public Safety, has published the 2020 Annual Security and Fire Safety Report. You may access the report online or directly through this link - https://go.ncsu.edu/2020asr

The report, in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, discusses NC State’s crime statistics, including reported crimes that occurred on campus, in certain off-campus buildings or properties owned or controlled by NC State, and public property immediately adjacent to and accessible from campus. The report also includes:

- University procedures for reporting suspicious or criminal activity, emergency notifications and response, and campus and building evacuations;
- University policies on substance abuse and interpersonal violence;
- Information on reporting acts of interpersonal violence, available interim protective measures, the university’s complaint process, as well as the rights of, and resources for, survivors; and
- Strategies for crime prevention, workplace violence prevention, and fire safety.

Please visit the University Police website for more information.
Global markets rebounded sharply in Q2 2020 following a steep contraction in Q1 resulting from the spread of COVID-19. Unemployment in the United States spiked to levels not seen since the Great Depression, peaking at 14.7% in April. Real-time indicators such as traffic congestion and restaurant bookings, began to rebound in Q2, but momentum waned in the later weeks of the quarter as cases of COVID-19 and related hospitalizations began to rise across various states. Supportive actions by both central banks and governments were instrumental in bridging the gap to reopening and provided hope for investors, but the recent resurgence in cases increases uncertainty around the duration and ultimate impact of the virus on US, and other global economies.

Domestic equities, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, posted some of the strongest returns globally, gaining 20.5% for the quarter. Even with the significantly negative first quarter, the S&P 500 was able to post a positive return for the one-year period ending June 30, 2020 with a gain of 7.5%. There was dramatic disparity in performance during the year across style and market caps with growth (Russell 1000 Growth +23.3%) significantly outperforming value (Russell 1000 Value -8.8%) and large caps (Russell 1000 +7.5%) materially outperforming small caps (Russell 2000 -6.6%).

Many of the European countries hardest hit by the pandemic, including Italy and Spain, experienced significant rebounds in Q2, as drastic measures taken to control the COVID-19 outbreak, with material left and right tail risks. There are a multitude of factors that will ultimately play into the outcome including renewed restriction measures, vaccine development and the appetite of governments and central banks to continue bolstering fragile and uncertain economies. In addition to the virus, issues of social and racial unrest and an impending US Presidential election in November add layers of complexity to the investment landscape for the remainder of the year. At this juncture, it is more important than ever to maintain a long-term investment focus and not lose sight of the strategic goals of the portfolio.

Emerging markets, as measured by the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, followed the trend of developed equity markets, gaining significant ground in the second quarter with a return of 18.2%; however, emerging markets remained negative for the one year period, posting a 3% loss as of June 30, 2020. Economic activity for the largest country (China) in the index rapidly recovered following dramatic shutdown measures taken earlier in the year. Broadly, emerging markets benefited from the stabilization of commodity markets and a modestly weaker U.S. dollar.

Government yields were predominantly range bound in the quarter, with the 10-year Treasury opening the quarter at 0.62% and closing at 0.68%. As such, Treasury investment returns were modest during the period, with credit-oriented fixed income providing significant outperformance. The Bloomberg Barclays High Yield Corporate Index posted a gain of 10.2% for the quarter, netting a positive 0.03% one-year return. Long dated investment grade bonds were the best performers, gaining 11.4% for the quarter and 13.8% for the one-year period ended June 30, 2020.

Looking ahead, there is significant uncertainty around the duration and severity of the COVID-19 outbreak, with material left and right tail risks. There are a multitude of factors that will ultimately play into the outcome including renewed restriction measures, vaccine development and the appetite of governments and central banks to continue bolstering fragile and uncertain economies. In addition to the virus, issues of social and racial unrest and an impending US Presidential election in November add layers of complexity to the investment landscape for the remainder of the year. At this juncture, it is more important than ever to maintain a long-term investment focus and not lose sight of the strategic goals of the portfolio.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Fund is managed as a broadly diversified portfolio with exposure to seven primary asset classes and many sub-strategies within each asset class. The Fund seeks to diversify exposure to the sub-strategies through the use of multiple investment managers that utilize a variety of investment approaches. The purpose of diversification is to provide reasonable assurance that no single security, class of securities, or investment manager has a disproportionate impact on the Fund's aggregate results. At times, the Fund invests in passive strategies. In working toward the Fund’s investment strategy, through UNCMC, the Fund invests in a number of niche managers that can employ different types of hedging strategies such as short-selling and derivative investing to help reduce the volatility of the Fund. The focus on controlling volatility preserves capital and benefits Fund participants through the power of compounding.

HISTORY OF THE FUND

The NC State Investment Fund, Inc., (Fund) was established in April 1999 to combine NC State University’s and its affiliated entities’ endowments in an external pooled investment vehicle. The goal of the investment program for the Fund is to provide a real total return from assets invested that will preserve the purchasing power of Fund capital, while generating an income stream to support the spending needs of the University. Effective July 2008, the Fund partnered with UNC Management Company (UNCMC) to invest in the UNC Investment Fund (UNCIF), a broadly diversified portfolio emphasizing equity-related investments to achieve the fund's long-term return objective. The transition of assets to UNCMC was completed December 2009. In 2012, the Fund invested in a Liquid Policy Portfolio (Blackrock LPP) of Exchange Traded Funds (ETF’s) providing 70% equity and 30% fixed income passive exposure. In 2017, the Fund partnered with a non-discretionary private asset advisor to continue its legacy private assets program (NCSIF Private Assets) investing in a diversified portfolio of direct private assets focusing on buyouts with complementary allocations to private credit and real asset opportunities. The remaining portion of the portfolio is invested in a short term cash vehicle (STIF) to fund capital calls and liquidity for operating needs.

Fourth Quarter Fiscal Year 2020
NC State Intermediate Term Fund
NC State University, Campus Box 7207, Raleigh, NC 27695-7207

Inception Date: July 3, 2014

FUND HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY

As a pooled fund for the collective investment of operating funds, the NC State Intermediate Term Fund (ITF) consists of Participants’ excess cash balances, which are defined as funds not needed for normal operating purposes. Generally, the ITF will not include operating funds needed within the next year, endowed funds or those funds that are specifically excluded by law or contractual agreement.

The decision to invest funds takes into account various factors including duration, credit, concentration, and manager risk, along with total return, suitability, and the experiences, quality and capability of external managers.

The primary investment objectives of the ITF are: 1) Preservation and safety of principal; 2) Liquidity; and 3) Maximization of returns within acceptable levels of risk. Because of current concerns about potential changes in monetary policy and rising interest rates, duration is limited.

The investment policy calls for an average weighted maturity between one and five years, with an overall credit rating in general of A+/A as rated by a nationally-recognized rating agency. However, for any mutual funds selected by the ITF, their respective approved investment policy guidelines supersede those of the ITF.

The ITF was established on July 3, 2014 with an initial investment of $122 million. Additional investments were made during FY 2015 and FY 2017, bringing the total invested to $193.83 million. The ITF can be compared with the State Treasurer's Short-Term Investment Fund (STIF) on both a total return and on an SEC yield basis. In order to provide a buffer for changes in the NAV of the different investments, some of the excess earnings are being used to create a loss reserve. FMV fluctuates on a day-to-day basis.

BlackRock's SIO was liquidated from the fund on June 30, 2016. Proceeds were invested in Vanguard's Short Term Fund and DoubleLine's Total Return Fund on July 1, 2016. Additionally, a small position with PIMCO Income was initiated on November 2, 2016. The ITF's position in JP Morgan was liquidated on September 27, 2017 and PIMCO Low Duration was liquidated on October 2, 2017. The proceeds from these liquidations were reinvested into Vanguard's Short Term Fund and PIMCO Income, bringing the total cost basis to $190.4 million.

MANAGERS

Vanguard’s Short Term Fund has a low tracking error and is a low cost portfolio option consisting primarily of investment grade corporates.

PIMCO’s Income Fund is a portfolio of a broad range of intermediate-duration bonds that is actively managed to maximize current income while maintaining a relatively low risk profile.

DoubleLine’s Total Return Fund seeks to maximize total return by exploiting inefficiencies within the subsectors of the mortgage market while maintaining active risk management constraints.

Centennial Campus Zoning
Overview

- NC State University is developing a rezoning application for the majority of its Centennial Campus.

  - Scope includes both State-owned land allocated to NC State and Endowment-owned land on Centennial Campus, west of Centennial Parkway (and not including the area east, referred to as Spring Hill District)

Note: Map depicts land ownership after execution of the previously approved land swap between the Endowment Fund and the State which is pending.
Goals

- Continue the trajectory of Centennial Campus as a vibrant educational and public-private partnership campus benefiting the city of Raleigh, the Triangle and the state of North Carolina.

- Provide zoning rights to accommodate long term needs for both university buildings and private development on Centennial Campus, including paving the way for the planned Innovation District.

- Align the zoning structure with the university’s 21st century vision of Centennial Campus as a mixed-use urban learn/live/work/play environment.

- Define campus “districts” that reflect the character of the campus land and outline appropriate development parameters while maintaining many of the key tenets of the 1988 campus zoning including provision of open spaces, density ratios, building heights based on campus location and establishment of recreational areas.
Zoning Framework & Path Forward

Due to the iterative nature of the planning process associated with creation of the zoning application, the content of the planned zoning framework for Centennial Campus will be presented live at the Building & Property Committee meeting and materials will be available online following the meeting.

A Revolution in Regenerative Medicine

Conventional 3D printers can’t manufacture replacement soft tissues. NC State researchers built one that does.

At the intersection of biology, textiles and medicine, we’re engineering scaffolds for cells that carry weight, speak into the ground and then safely disappear.

Our next target? Creating organs.

A Million Thanks to Our Pack

April 28, 2020 | Amy Rossi

As NC State adjusted operations in response to the coronavirus pandemic, alumni, friends, faculty and staff reached out with one question: How can we help?

Our Wolfpack came together to raise over $1,000,000 for the Student Emergency Fund. You have helped more than 1,500 students stay on track academically in the face of unexpected financial emergencies related to job loss, technology needs, housing and childcare.
Forged in Fire

The first 18 bells that arrived at the Memorial Belltower in June 2020 are the result of months of hard work. The making of a bell encompasses molding, casting and finishing. NC State’s bells are being cast from extremely hot molten bronze (about 80% copper and the rest tin) in a choreographed process led by Ben Sunderland (in green), shown here casting the second-largest bell for our belfry during a September 2019 visit to the B.A. Sunderland Bellfoundry in Ruther Glen, Virginia. A bell mold is buried in a sand pit and the metal is poured in.

A Video Chat From Outer Space Becomes a Statewide Teaching Moment

When NASA approved NC State’s request to host a live downlink from the International Space Station with astronaut and alumnus Christina Koch, the university had just a few months to pull together an event that highlighted the science and wonder of space exploration — as well as the strengths in STEM education that helped one of its alums reach for the stars.

Teams from across NC State and event cohost the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics came together to design an engaging and educational program around the 20-minute Q&A with Koch. They were able to prepare a coordinated effort to get the word out to audiences at both schools and beyond via social media and email campaigns, media pitches and outreach to K-12 schools across the state.

The result was a cosmic success. Koch answered questions from students from both schools, Astrophysicist and science communication superstar Katie Mack spoke about her path to a successful career in science. A panel of

Published: July 31, 2020 [Associated Press]

North Carolina State University staggered the return of its students over 10 days and welcomed the first 100 students to campus, where they were greeted Friday by physically distant volunteers donning masks and face shields. The rate of passage was well-organized but low-key after, as boxes were unloaded, luggage was wheeled and beds were hauled.

"It's just odd not seeing anybody. You expect to be hustle and bustle and all that around, but there was nothing. It was pretty empty," said Dominick DePace, an incoming freshman from Chapel Hill, N.C.

Chair Washington called the meeting to order at 1:15 p.m. He welcomed everyone and stated he looked forward to working with them as chair this year. Chair Washington acknowledged Trustees Melanie Flowers and Perry Safran as newly appointed committee members. He called the roll and certified that a quorum was present. Provost Arden introduced staff members in attendance who regularly attend this meeting and who the committee may hear from throughout the year.

Chair Washington reminded all attendees that this is a public meeting but not a meeting for public comment and read the State Government Ethics Act to remind all members of their duty to report conflicts of interest or appearances of conflict.

Committee Responsibilities and Plan of Work
Provost Arden provided a brief overview of the committee’s responsibilities. He noted the committee uses a consent agenda format to approve items that have been through comprehensive evaluation processes on campus, e.g., conferral of tenure requests, center and institute requests and new academic programs. He also noted a committee member may request an item be pulled from the consent agenda for discussion as needed.

In reference to the committee’s plan of work for the year, Chair Washington explained the plan is a working document and can be updated as the year progresses. He stated much of the committee’s work is prescribed by policy; however, utilization of the consent agenda will allow time for brief presentations on topics of interest. He encouraged committee members to share ideas with him of any topics they would like discussed. Provost Arden added that previous topics have included the promotion and tenure process, distance learning, entrepreneurship and the Libraries.

Approval of Minutes
The minutes from the July 15, 2020 meeting were presented for approval, and with no changes, they were approved by consent.

Consent Agenda
Chair Washington reviewed the list of items on the consent agenda and asked Provost Arden to provide brief remarks on the two degree program discontinuations: Bachelor of Landscape Architecture and Bachelor of Science in Turfgrass Science. Provost Arden explained the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture program admitted the last students in Fall 2012 due to low enrollment. Faculty, staff and students were informed of the closure of the program in 2011, and the program fully closed when the last student graduated in 2016. The department still offers a Master of Landscape Architecture degree and a Landscape Architecture minor. He continued by explaining the Department of Crop and Soil Sciences is requesting discontinuation of the Turfgrass Science degree. The structure of the degree program has been moved to a new Turfgrass Science concentration under the BS in Crop and Soil Sciences degree. As of August 2020 the Department will stop admitting freshmen and transfers, and students currently enrolled in the program will be allowed to complete the existing degree up until June 2025. New students will be admitted to the new Turfgrass concentration under the Crop and Soil Sciences degree.

A motion was made by Mr. Kelly, and seconded by Ms. Flowers, to approve the consent agenda items which included approval of the July 15, 2020 open session minutes; approval to continue three centers – The Ergonomics Center of North Carolina, the Center for Educational Informatics and the NC Sea Grant College Program; approval to discontinue two degree programs – the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture and the Bachelor of Science in Turfgrass Science; designation that a distinguished professorship be awarded on a time-limited basis and conferral of tenure to a new faculty member. The vote by roll call was unanimous and the motion passed.

Reports

Enrollment Report

Dr. Louis Hunt, Senior Vice Provost for Enrollment Management and Services, gave the annual enrollment report. The report highlighted challenges to enrollment as a result of COVID-19 and how those challenges were addressed, as well as changes in overall graduate and undergraduate enrollment, academic quality of the incoming freshman cohort and undergraduate student success data. Dr. Hunt explained the numbers in his presentation have been updated as of Census Day and are therefore more current than the numbers found in the materials. Overall enrollment for Fall 2020 was 36,302, which is the second largest in NC State’s history. The university enrolled 4,665 new freshmen and 1,446 new transfer students. For the second time in NC State’s history, the freshman cohort enrolled more females than males. Preliminary graduation rates were also discussed. The new six-year graduation rate is projected to set a new record for the university.

Student Body President Report

Student Body President Melanie Flowers provided a report on Student Government activities covering the time period of March 25 – August 16, 2020. During this time several challenges have been presented and Student Government has worked to demonstrate the needs of students in various ways. She highlighted several efforts relating to COVID-19, Racial Unrest and Title IX matters.

Provost’s Update

In his update, Provost Arden provided an overview of plans for the academic year including an update on leadership searches and comprehensive leadership reviews. The search for the Vice Chancellor and Dean of the Division of Academic and Student Affairs is underway. Three candidates will be interviewed. The 2020-21 academic year marks Dean Braden’s last year as Dean thus the search for the next Dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences will also commence this fall. Five-year leadership reviews are scheduled for the Colleges of Design, Education and Textiles. The strategic plan task force reports have been posted. The campus community is invited to review the reports and provide feedback to the Strategic Planning Executive Steering Committee through September 21, 2020. Finally, Provost Arden noted a new Graduate Certificate in Disaster Resilient Policy, Engineering and Design has been established and is effective this fall.

Closed Session

A motion was made by Mr. Poole, and seconded by Mr. Kelly, to go into closed session to establish the material terms of employment contracts. The vote by roll call was unanimous and the motion passed.
Reconvene in Open Session
After coming out of closed session, Chair Washington announced the meeting in open session.

Mr. Kelly made a motion to delegate to Chancellor Woodson the authority to approve adjustments to terms in the employment agreements of employees in the athletics department who have employment agreements pursuant to UNC Policy 1100.3 (the Director of Athletics and the Head Coaches) to address COVID-19 budget related issues as necessary. Mr. Poole seconded the motion. The vote by roll call was unanimous and the motion passed.

With no further business, Chair Washington announced the meeting adjourned at 2:32 p.m.

Vice Chancellor for Research and Innovation
NC State University

SUBJECT: Recommendation to disestablish the Institute for Nonprofit Research, Education and Engagement (INPREE) under Regulation 10.10.04

DATE: August 25, 2020

The Institute for Nonprofit Research, Education and Engagement (INPREE) was established in April 2009 by the NC State Board of Trustees as a distinct University unit governed by Reg. 10.10.04. The Institute was founded to be an expert resource for information on nonprofits, a respected partner in research and practice collaborations, a recipient of external funding, and a developer and manager of educational and research initiatives. INPREE is administered by the NC State College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHASS).

Thanks to its dedicated staff and visionary leadership, INPREE has been a valuable asset for NC State and the nation's community of nonprofits. With that said, the failure of a recent search for a new Director of the Institute and fiscal uncertainties engendered by the COVID-19 pandemic have caused a reconsideration of the Institute's status as an independent University unit.

After careful consideration, the College requests the disestablishment of INPREE and transfer of the oversight of the Institute's Social Innovation and Entrepreneurs Program to the College’s Office of Research and Engagement. The College's Department of Public Administration will absorb the Institute's programs on nonprofit research and scholarship.

The Office of Research and Innovation endorses the request by CHASS to disestablish INPREE as a University Institute as sanctioned by the Board of Trustees. I request your approval of this recommendation.

Designation of Time Limited Option for Distinguished Professorships

Background: Donors who endow a distinguished professorship at NC State University may elect to pursue matching funds available through the state’s Distinguished Professors Endowment Trust Fund (DPETF). In accordance with state statutes, as well as University of North Carolina system and NC State University policies, the NC State University Board of Trustees (BoT) is authorized to designate that endowed distinguished professorships seeking DPETF matching funds may be time limited.

We request this designation from the BoT when a donor agreement indicates intent that a distinguished professorship be awarded, or potentially awarded, at a rank other than professor (i.e. assistant, associate professor) and/or for a period other than an individual’s full career.

This designation provides the university with the maximum flexibility in awarding the distinguished professorship over time. Still, the overwhelming majority of NC State’s distinguished professorships are offered to professors for the duration of their career at NC State.

Recommended Action: We request designation of the following distinguished professorship which may be time limited:

1. Marshall W. Grant Distinguished Professorship in Cotton Extension, College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, $2M endowment
2. Joseph D. Moore Distinguished Professorship, to rotate periodically among colleges, $1M endowment

SUBJECT: Recommendations for 2021-22 Campus Initiated Tuition Increases (CITI) and Student Fees
DATE: October 22, 2020

In accordance with the University of North Carolina Board of Governors' policy and the NC State Tuition and Fee adjustment process, a Tuition Review Advisory Committee (TRAC), co-chaired by Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost Warwick Arden and Student Body President Melanie Flowers, and a Fee Review Committee (FRC), co-chaired by Interim Vice Chancellor for Academic and Student Affairs Lisa Zapata and Student Senate President Coleman Simpson, were appointed. The Tuition Review Advisory Committee (Attachment A) and the Fee Review Committee (Attachment B) forwarded their recommendations to me.

Tuition Review Advisory Committee
TRAC approved the following Campus-Initiated Tuition Increase (CITI) recommendations:

2021-22
- ($0 CITI = 0.0%) Undergraduate Residents
- ($666 CITI = 2.5%) Undergraduate Nonresidents
- ($0 CITI = 0.0%) Graduate Residents
- ($661 CITI = 2.5%) Graduate Nonresidents

Per the UNC System Office (UNC-SO) 2021-22 Campus-Initiated Tuition and Fee Adjustment instructions, no tuition increases are allowed for resident students, and market driven tuition increases are allowed for nonresident students.

TRAC recommends that the additional tuition revenues be used to:

2021-22
- Contribute to need-based Financial Aid: recommended allocating $1,078,482 [30.6%]
- Provide funding to the Graduate Student Support Plan: recommended allocating $991,500 [28.1%]
- Improve the quality and accessibility of the NC State educational experience: recommended allocating 958,481 [27.2%]
- Provide funding for faculty promotional increases: recommended allocating $500,000 [14.2%]
Fee Review Committee
According to the UNC-SO 2021-22 Campus-Initiated Tuition and Fee Adjustment instructions, the Student Health Service Fee is the only fee allowed to be submitted for a proposed increase without an offsetting reduction to another fee. All other fee changes, excluding the Student Health Service Fee, are required to net to zero increase in total.

The Fee Review Committee recommends the following fees for NC State students for the 2021-22 academic year: zero net increase in fees, consisting of a +$38.00 increase in the Student Health Service Fee combined with a decrease of -$38.00 in the Thompson Hall Indebtedness Fee, which is set to expire at the end of current fiscal year. Total fees for undergraduates would remain at $2,565.60 under this proposed fee schedule.

I want to thank both committees for their diligent and thoughtful work. I concur with the recommendations by both the TRAC and the FRC, and recommend them to you for review.

Student success is our primary goal, and consideration for access and affordability are part of the decision making process as we identify sustainable solutions that benefit the entire NC State community.

Thank you for your consideration of the 2021-22 CITI and fee recommendations.

SUBJECT: Report of the 2020-21 Tuition Review Advisory Committee Regarding Campus Initiated Tuition Increase (CITI)

DATE: October 15, 2020

The Tuition Review Advisory Committee (the Committee) submits the following campus initiated tuition increase (CITI) for 2021-22.

The Committee recognizes that final authority for recommending tuition increases to the North Carolina Legislature rests with the UNC System Office and the UNC Board of Governors. Information received from the UNC System was shared with the committee as follows:

✔ No tuition increases allowed for undergraduate and graduate resident students with the combined tuition and fee rates for undergraduate residents to remain in the bottom quartile of an institution’s public peers.

✔ Increases will be considered for nonresident undergraduate students with a continued goal of combined tuition and fee to be market driven and rates set at or above the third quartile of an institution’s public peers.

✔ Increases will be considered for nonresident graduate students.

✔ Campuses can request to establish tuition rates for any new graduate program that will enroll students for the first time in Fall 2021.

Three committee meetings were scheduled [September 23, September 30 and October 12]. These meetings were well attended, and members engaged in thoughtful discussions during each meeting. The committee received directions ahead of the meeting and were well informed of this year’s process. The Committee proceeded with the CITI review and recommendation process focusing on tuition rates for nonresident undergraduate students and graduate students. Based on the instructions received from the UNC System, the committee made the decision to not put any premium tuition requests this year. Members reviewed and discussed relevant information relating to tuition, evaluated available data, and formulated CITI recommendations for the 2021-22 fiscal year. Following the Student Government Tuition and Fees Town Hall, the committee also received recommendations from the Student Senate for consideration.

During the committee’s meeting cycle, it was discussed that there is a desire among students to remain conservative in light of the pandemic. NC State will remain second lowest for resident undergraduate and graduate tuition as well as nonresident undergraduate tuition and third lowest for nonresident graduate student tuition. The Committee reviewed several scenarios and agreed to keep a modest approach. However, while the Committee understood the importance of remaining a good value, it also recognized and discussed the importance of continuing to move the university forward and the important role that tuition revenue plays in achieving student success initiatives.

Ultimately, the committee recommended the following: 2.5% for nonresident undergraduate students and graduate students. As previously mentioned, 0% for resident undergraduate and graduate students was mandated by the UNC System office.

There was a recommendation to hold need-based financial aid and GSSP harmless. The committee therefore recommended a little over one million dollars (30.6%) be allocated to need-based financial aid and just under one million dollars for the Graduate Student Support Plan (GSSP) (28.1%). Faculty promotional increases were estimated at $500,000 (14.2%) for this year and the rest was distributed to improve quality & accessibility (27.2%). The committee was reminded that any unused funds from the GSSP and faculty promotional increases will be allocated to quality and accessibility.

At its October 12th meeting the Committee completed its work by voting and approving the recommended percent tuition increase for two student categories and the percent allocation for four expenditure categories. The Committee includes 11 voting members and 6 non-voting members; 10 out of 11 voting members cast votes.

The Committee approved the following campus initiated tuition increase (CITI) recommendations:

2021-22
- Continue guaranteed 8/10 semester fixed tuition rates for undergraduate residents enrolled as of Fall 2016 and after
  - ($0 CITI = 0%) Undergraduate Residents (New Cohort)
  - ($666 CITI = 2.5%) Undergraduate Nonresidents
- ($0 CITI = 0%) Graduate Residents
- ($661 CITI = 2.5%) Graduate Nonresidents

The Committee recommends that the additional tuition revenues be used to:

2021-22
- Increase the need-based Financial Aid: recommended allocating $1,078,482 [which equals 30.6%]
- provide funding to the Graduate Student Support Plan: recommended allocating $991,500 [which equals 28.1%]
- improve the quality and accessibility of the NC State educational experience: recommended allocating $958,481 [which equals 27.2%]
- provide funding for faculty promotional increases: recommended allocating $500,000 [which equals 14.2%]

NC State University’s CITI Request Justification

FY 2021-22

NC State’s request for Campus Initiated Tuition Increase (CITI) will enable us to continue to provide expanded educational opportunities and innovative enhancements that promote the success of our students. Consistent with our on-going strategic planning, we will continue to invest in programs that promote a strong interdisciplinary and entrepreneurial culture to position students to be successful engaged leaders in society when they graduate.

Our regular term CITI request will generate approximately $3.5M in revenue. About 30.6% will be allocated to need-based students via financial aid, and 28.1% will support the Graduate Student Support Plan (GSSP), a fund that provides stipend, tuition and health benefits to graduate students. About 14.2% will be allocated for faculty promotional increases that are awarded when faculty are promoted with tenure through NC State’s Reappointment, Promotion, and Tenure process and assists with our faculty retention efforts. The remaining 27.2% will be allocated to improve quality and accessibility by supporting additional seats and sections in our general education courses, adding professional advisers to meet increased demand, and supporting expanded institutional opportunities for our students. In addition, the distance education CITI will generate approximately $230K, which will be distributed to enhance student success through educational innovation; increase educational opportunities and academic support. These additional CITI funds are paramount as they will fund various initiatives such as:

1) Continue to hire faculty in order to expand into new and emerging programs, to reduce class size and to increase the flexibility in the delivery of courses,
   - Through NC State’s targeted interdisciplinary faculty hiring plan, we are bringing together the brightest minds in a range of academic disciplines. We will continue to fund faculty lines in targeted interdisciplinary programs, such as:
     o Carbon Electronics
     o Digital Transformation
     o Data Science
     o Human Health & the Environment
   - We continue to assess class size and its impact on student learning. Class size will be reduced by expanding course offerings, which will enable students to take more courses in the most appropriate sequence. This decreases time to degree and reduces the financial burden on students and parents.
   - NC State strives to provide innovative and technology-driven modes of course delivery to students, which provides students more opportunities and schedule flexibility. This flexibility allows students to participate in a variety of other academic opportunities that they may not be afforded otherwise. With the advent of Covid-19 these initiatives have grown in demand.

2) Invest in developing and implementing innovative learning technologies,
   - NC State promotes a technology-rich education by investing in learning technologies. Advances in research on learning and teaching, coupled with advances in information and communications technology, have paved the way for the next generation of innovative learning technologies. As we manage through the Covid-19 pandemic, we continue to invest in high-end equipment and instructor and student support to improve instructional quality and student learning experiences.
• We immerse ourselves in emerging technology research. We are continually exploring new learning technology tools and delivery mechanisms to lead educational innovation.

• We support faculty in developing high-quality teaching strategies that are specific for improving student learning and engagement in online or hybrid courses. Investments in instructional workshops, mini-grants for course design, and peer consultations with instructional experts have all helped our faculty strengthen their skills in online teaching and student engagement, resulting in improved student outcomes. In response to the pandemic, we rapidly converted much of this programming for our instructors to an online format so that they could integrate these high-quality practices into their courses that moved online rapidly during the past year. We also brought these resources together via the creation of the Keep Teaching website for NC State faculty; we also developed the “companion” Keep Learning website for students to support our community’s instructional mission through the pandemic.

• Investments in DELTA’s course redesign initiative have resulted in significant reductions in drop/withdrawal/failure rates not only in the redesigned courses, but also in subsequent “downstream” courses. As a result, these redesigned courses are having a marked impact on student success and throughput.

• Our instructional tools enhance learning, streamline course administration, increase engagement, and support student achievement. For example, Moodle is a virtual course environment that offers a suite of teaching and learning tools. With this tool, an engaging learning space can be created for a particular course – blending content, interaction and testing. There are other hardware/software platforms that allow video, audio and/or screen capture of any event to be streamed live and/or archived for future viewing. Lectures can be recorded in the classroom, and students can watch and review at their convenience. In response to the pandemic, we have invested to increase the number of our classrooms that are equipped with this “classroom capture” technology. In addition, there is another learning technology tool that enables faculty to hold live sessions with their students for office hours and/or problem-solving sessions. These investments in vital technology have and continue to assist NC State in ensuring our students have the high caliber educational experience they demand, even during challenging times such as now.

• Financial resources are being directed to enhance learning spaces for our students, such as the visualization and data spaces in the DH Hill Library. We will continue to make investments in student learning spaces where opportunities present themselves.

3) Increase the opportunities for advising and mentoring at both the graduate and undergraduate levels,

• NC State continues to assess the need for academic advisors and invests in positions to strengthen advising in high-demand areas. Professional advisors and faculty mentors play a pivotal role in the success of both our undergraduate and graduate students. We have observed our advisors playing a critical role as students manage the changes and stressors of the pandemic. Thus, we have prioritized ensuring that our academic advisors have the support that they need during the pandemic and ensuring that we have enough advisors to support our students during the pandemic.
4) Provide graduate and undergraduate internships and professional development experiences,

- Investments are being made to provide educational opportunities for students to inspire them to lead and prepare them for life after graduation. For example, the Professional Experience Program (PEP) aims to create meaningful campus student employment opportunities with particular emphasis toward expanding undergraduate research opportunities and career development. Students are paid a wage while working with NC State entities to participate in undergraduate research and expand their professional development. Creating meaningful on-campus employment gives students a greater ability to focus on their studies and excel in the classroom. PEP connects university colleges, departments, and students seeking on-campus employment. Students receive hands-on work experience in the disciplines in which they are planning a career.

- Student internship opportunities are numerous. Many of the colleges offer internships specific to the disciplines within their college. For example, the College of Natural Resources requires all undergraduate students in the Department of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management to participate in a 10-week student internship. Participation in this internship provides students with relevant hands-on experiences in program development, administrative procedures, supervision, time-management, facility operation and maintenance.

- Internships are offered in a variety of businesses, non-profits, government agencies, or educational institutions in the Triangle and are carefully matched to the students' career path and professional aspirations. Some of our internships were affected by the pandemic; however, some of our partner companies and agencies that moved to remote or partially-remote operations also moved their internship experiences to a remote or partially-remote format as well. We are actively working with our internship partners to identify new opportunities in the coming year that will be as “pandemic-proof” as possible in terms of providing students with these important learning opportunities in the midst of pandemic-related changes.

- We continue to evaluate professional development opportunities in graduate education rigorously. We work with our graduate students to help them think about how the knowledge and skills they develop while students at NC State are transferable out into the real world and excel in a career. For example, we are offering a Dissertation Institute to master’s students and PhD students. We are also holding writing workshops to encourage our students to write more and in a timely manner. Workshops are offered on communication – both speaking and writing; leadership and management; project management; academic development – teaching and mentorship; and personal and professional development, including skills to help students in their job search.

- Networking events are held for our graduate students, discussion panels, presentations, company site visits, and team projects, to name a few of the opportunities provided to move our students from academics to industry.

NC State has a proven record of improving student success through innovative and cutting-edge initiatives. The additional resources coming from CITI will continue to build on program quality, maintain affordability and help ensure a stable workforce.
MEMORANDUM

TO: W. Randolph Woodson, Chancellor

FROM: Lisa Zapata, Interim Vice Chancellor, Co-Chair
       Coleman Simpson, Student Senate President, Co-Chair

SUBJECT: 2021-2022 Student Fee Review Committee Recommendations

DATE: October 16, 2020

In accordance with your charge to the Student Fee Review Committee, the committee met to review all student fees and make recommendations regarding the continuation of existing fees and consideration of proposed increases for 2021-2022.

The members of the Student Fee Review Committee include:

Dr. Lisa Zapata, Co-Chair, Interim Vice Chancellor, Academic and Student Affairs
Coleman Simpson, Co-Chair, Student Senate President
Lexie Malico, Graduate Student Representative
Melanie Flowers, Student Body President
Garrison Seitz, Undergraduate Student Representative
Dr. Jerome Lavelle, Associate Dean, Academic Affairs, College of Engineering
Barbara Moses, Associate Vice Chancellor, Budget and Resource Management
Krista Ringler, Director, Scholarships and Financial Aid
Dr. Paul Williams, Professor, Poole College of Management
James Withrow, Ex. Officio Non-voting, Student Senate Tuition and Fees Committee Chair

The committee met on September 24, September 30, and October 14. At the initial meeting, the committee discussed the fee process for the upcoming weeks and reviewed budgets and narratives for each student fee. Please see Table 1 for a list of all fees and the Student Health request. Based on initial interpretation of guidance from the UNC BOG, the committee was prepared to review several fee requests. With the Thompson Hall debt service fee expiring in FY21, we were prepared to consider fee requests that would be no higher than the decreasing debt service fee ($38). The UNC System Office later clarified that only increases to the Student Health fee would be considered and use of expiring debt service to offset other fee increases would not be considered. Based on this clarification, Student Health was asked to review their budget and prepare a new proposal for the committee to review. Co-Chair Simpson informed the committee about the Student Tuition and Fees Town Hall meeting scheduled for October 1 and the Student Senate meeting on October 7, where the students would vote on their fee recommendations.

The following units were invited to the September 30 committee meeting to present and answer questions about the Student Health Services fee: Student Health Services and the Counseling Center. The meeting ended with an announcement that the Student Senate would be meeting and vote on the fees at their October 7 meeting.

Student Senate met on October 7 and discussed legislation that was written for the following fees: Campus Security fee, Student Center Operations, and Student Center Programs. These fees were not put forward to the committee, so Student Senate recommended that those fees remain the same for the 2021-2022 academic year. Student Senate supported the fee increase of Student Health at $38 with a unanimous vote.

On October 14, the Fee Review Committee had their final meeting to vote on fees. There was a motion for the committee to continue the non-fee increase request as one vote. There was no deliberation and it was unanimously approved. A motion was moved to deliberate the Student Health fee at $38. Co-Chair Simpson reiterated the student support for this fee. After no further discussion there was a motion to move forward and vote on the $38 fee increase. The vote was unanimously approved. In the end, the Fee Review Committee voted in line with the Student Senate recommendations. Details of the votes for individual fees are located in Appendix A.

The final recommendations for fees for 2021-2022 would result in an increase in fees of $38.00 (Table 1). This would represent a net-zero increase on all fees. Total fees for undergraduates would be $2,565.60 under this proposed fee schedule. A more detailed report, showing fees from the past three years, the original requests, the recommendations from Student Senate, and the final approved amounts are reflected in Appendix B.

Justification for Proposed Fee Increase (include additional information on Form C tab if needed)

This fee request is intended to maintain the full range of health services and health facilities currently offered while managing increasing demand for services. The Counseling Center and Prevention Services are requesting 4.0 FTE to add needed resources in the following areas: high risk case management; clinical focus in areas of diversity; and administrative/supervisory oversight for clinical services and quality assurance to ensure adequate care. Student Health Services has demonstrated need for the expansion (additional 3.0 FTE) in two areas: Medicaid Services and Community Health Services.

Please discuss the effect on the overall student experience if the fee increase request is denied

Without the fee request, we have to look to minimize services as demand continues to soar. Nationally, Counseling Centers and Prevention services are experiencing record demand. This is also true for NC State. In the past six years alone, there has been a 56% increase in students seeking services at the counseling center (from 3,833 students to 5,979 students seen). CARES case reporting has provided the following trend data for the past four years: students reporting suicidal thoughts up 60%; students reporting a suicide attempt up 93%, students reporting depression and extreme sadness up 129%, 63 students hospitalized last year for mental health reasons. In the previous 3 years, SHS has responded to incidents including the COVID-19 pandemic, 3 large norovirus outbreaks, back-to-back significant influenza seasons in 2018-19 and 2019-20, and 3 zoonotic disease exposures at CVM. The response to these incidents require a community health strategy beyond the brick and mortar of the Student Health Center. Up until 2020, there were approximately 500 students who opted out of the mandatory insurance program because they had Medicaid. Many of these students reside, when not on campus, in underserved, marginalized communities or are supported by low- to middle-income families who cannot afford private insurance. It is expected that this population of students will grow in the next 2-3 years at a higher rate than previously experienced.

REPORTS
NCSU Faculty Senate Board of Trustees Report 20 October 2020

Hans Kellner, Chair of the Faculty

The semester is, as the Chancellor put it, "a weird time for all of us." It is especially weird for the faculty, who are mainly doing their work from spaces not intended for that purpose and with technology inadequate for university level pedagogy. Although we have cardboard cut-outs of fans at football games, we do not expect them to rush the field after a victory, tear down the goal posts, or cheer in a deafening way. Teaching via Zoom is like this. It a huge challenge, and can be done more or less well, but it isn't the real thing.

Still, it is remarkable that it can be done at all. Every one of us has his or her separate problems, despite the university's outstanding support. As we Faculty Chairs across the System discuss our situations, I can attest that none are better served than NC State -- not only our DELTA forces in academic technology, but also the diverse efforts in the colleges and departments, offering workshops and other aids to faculty. I have attended a dozen of these sessions; they are the result of work beyond what is in anyone's academic job description and we are grateful to our colleagues for this.

In this environment of challenge and faculty response, faculty governance here has done what it can to keep the faculty informed and involved -- a difficult task, since personal contact is the key to all communication on campus. Last month, our (virtual) meetings brought the new chief of campus police to the Senate to set out his views on policing a university at this time. The Vice Provost for Institutional Equity and Diversity presented her plans for a Racial Equity Summit, which began last week. The following meetings in September welcomed the Chancellor's new Chief of Staff, with whom you must all be acquainted, and heard the plans for a "Pack for Emergency Employee Relief Program" (PEER) intended to provide short-term loans to faculty and staff in need of temporary assistance. This project has been promoted by the Chair-Elect of the Faculty, Professor Jade Berry-James. DELTA also provided an overview of its available resources for online teaching, and they are impressive. By the end of September, budget realities had struck the university, and furloughs and salary reductions were the order of the day in the auxiliary enterprises. The Senate invited Vice Chancellor Maimone and Athletic Director Corrigan to describe for the faculty the extent of auxiliary enterprises, including athletics, the largest of them. It was an informative meeting, and accompanies the beginnings of a reborn Budget Advisory Committee, which the Senate called for at the end of spring semester. This group, composed of faculty, staff, students and administrators, will hold its second meeting soon.

The General Faculty meeting, via Zoom, was held on 13 October, and posed the question: "What have we learned?" Dealing with the response and planning for Covid-19 and the experiences of the spring semester, the meeting saw Dr Julie Casani (Student Health), Amy Orders (Emergency Management), and Lisa Zapata (Student Affairs) join the Chancellor and Provost to respond to questions from a sometimes skeptical faculty. The next Senate meeting will feature Louis Hunt, who, as university registrar, has been at the center of planning for many years. Hunt has announced his retirement and should have a lot to tell us about his position and its changing demands. In other faculty-related affairs, the University Lifelong Faculty Involvement Committee is looking into the status of non-emeritus faculty retirees, and what privileges they ought to have.

The standing committees of the Senate have dealt with a variety of issues of concern. Academic Policy resolved a matter of whether acceptance of a small stipend for a book index made the author give up any royalties. The final exam policy has been changed from three hours to 2.5. Personnel Policy has discussed proposed changes in regulations that govern promotion and tenure matters in light of the current pandemic situation. GoCoRe (Governance-Communication-Recruitment) has dealt with many things, notably the options for increasing faculty awareness of the Senate in the world of Zoom. Resources and Environment participate in the budget advisory meetings and have discuss campus naming matters.

The Faculty Assembly of leaders and elected representatives from the faculties of the 17 institutions of the System has been active, as well. President Hans stressed his desire of help and advice from the faculties and answered a number of questions, particularly about the changes in the method of selecting Chancellors. He particularly reiterated the individuality of the campuses. Governor Darrell Allison, who later resigned from the Board, laid out the work of the Racial Equity Task Force at the System level. Under different leadership this task force is currently holding Town Halls across the system. The process is just starting, we are told. Many matters were brought to the assembly, but none was more important than the concern about mental wellness among faculty (and, indeed, all elements of campus life). The stresses that accompany the pandemic campus need addressing, regulations need adjustment, as do employee assistance, child care, and career clocks. Our university is making the effort to introduce more flexibility into faculty career paths, and to advertise better the assistance offered for mental wellness. Many are just "Zoomed out."

The Faculty Chairs from across the system meet regularly to relate the situation on their campuses and to develop pro-faculty items. A major project of the last two years has been revision of the Principles of Shared Governance, which have been approved by the Assembly and System. Communication is also a crucial challenge, on subjects from salaries to selection of Chancellors.

The Chair of the Faculty here at State is part of everything, it seems, from University Council to the Hazardous Waste committee -- the range of university topics is large.
My final word is this: our condition at this moment is not really acceptable. The work of faculty governance depends on personal, face-to-face, relationships, when poets meet engineers, and social work meets crop science. This we do not have with Zoom; an important part of our work is frustrated. So I believe we must keep our eyes on and plan for the future, after the era of remote teaching.
Honorable Trustees,

The NC State Staff Senate continues to forge ahead with its goals and priorities even in the midst of COVID-19 and budget constraints.

Our annual retreat titled “Staff Senate Leading During this Time of Change” was held virtually on August 26, 2020, with more than 70 senators present. While we are having to do things differently this year, we were excited that we could connect even if it was virtual.

Staff Senate Retreat highlights

- We kicked off the retreat with remarks from past chairs as we proudly celebrated the 25th year anniversary of the staff senate.
- Stephanie Davis, Assistant Director Learning & Organizational Development led us in our first exercise centered around our theme, “Staff Senate Leading During this Time of Change.”
- Senators were sent to break out rooms to discuss the following questions:
  - What does the Staff Senate theme mean to them and what were the common themes: Some of the common themes were innovation, flexibility, unafraid to be the voice of the constituents, collaboration, focusing on positivity and stability.
  - And then finally, how can the Staff Senate influence change to create positive outcomes and results? By maintaining open communication with constituents and taking concerns and issues to appropriate staff/administrators. But above all, being present and engaged.

During the annual retreat, administrative updates were given by Chancellor Woodson and Associate Vice Chancellor Marie Williams.

Chancellor Woodson discussed the following:

- NC State’s response to the COVID-19 Pandemic.
- Budget Updates.
- Diversity and Inclusion at NC State.
- Dedication to Sustainability.

Associate Vice Chancellor Marie Williams discussed the following:

- University Human Resources commitment to promoting a culture of diversity, equity and inclusion.
- Working closely with Environmental Health, Public Safety, Student Health and University Leadership in promoting the policies and workplace safety guidelines during the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Provided helpful COVID-19 resources for our faculty and staff.

In both of their beginning and ending comments, Chancellor Woodson and Associate VC Marie Williams thanked the Staff Senate for leadership, advocacy and diligence. Chancellor Woodson assured us again that the health, safety and well-being of our Wolfpack community was a top priority in making decisions relating to the COVID-19 pandemic.
A presentation was also given by Sheri Schwab, Vice Provost for Institutional Equity and Diversity. Sheri expressed gratitude for the Staff Senate reaching out and asking for ways that we could help in these very intense times.

She then conducted a presentation on Racial Equity and Diversity, Equity and Inclusion at NC State.

We wrapped up the retreat feeling encouraged that even though the way we do things may look different during the pandemic, we have the resources and support to lead effectively during this challenging time in our lives.

September Activities:

- Continuing to work collaboratively with the faculty senate to establish an Employee Emergency Fund, which with the Chancellor’s endorsed support will be established in the new year.
- Convened a Zoom meeting for Staff Senators to discuss the NC State Strategic Plan Task Force reports with an opportunity for public comment.
- Reviewed available resources for assisting staff in professional development and continuing education goals.
- In collaboration with University Human Resources, communicated resources available to support our furloughed employees in some of the university’s auxiliary units.

October Activities:

- Solicited staff participation in UNC System Racial Equity Task Force upcoming virtual town halls.
- Represented Staff on the Guiding Coalition for Racial Equity Summit. The Coalition is one of several groups that has been working since summer to plan the event.
- Represented the Staff Senate in the University’s Racial Equity Summit conducted on October 15th.
- Continuing to host and support Learn at Lunch virtual meetings for our employees.
- Staff Senate Connections, our monthly newsletter, continues to provide resources for campus as well as our NC State extension office.
- Provide staff representation on the University Budget Advisory Committee and Transportation Advisory committee.
- Continue to have weekly meetings with Chancellor Woodson along with the Faculty Senate chair and weekly meetings with the Executive Briefing committee.

While COVID-19 has made this year particularly challenging, we continue to enhance, enrich and encourage a sense of community among all university staff employees. We are excited about three upcoming service initiatives, Feed the Pack-Food Pantry, Coat/Clothes Drive and Toys for Tots.

The Staff Senate continues to be the conduit for our staff to let their voices be heard.

Respectfully Submitted,

Pat Gaddy, Staff Senate Chair

Graduate Certificate In Regulatory Science in Agriculture

Introduction

Regulatory Science is a field critical to the advancement of responsible technologies for agriculture from concept, through research and development, to commercialization, and throughout a technology's life.

Recognizing the importance of Regulatory Science to future innovation in agriculture and recognizing the leadership position that NC State has established in the arena of agricultural technology and innovation, the development of a Certificate Program in Regulatory Science in Agriculture is proposed.

In today's climate, it is critical that “boots-on-the-ground” science is well represented to ensure regulatory decisions at all levels are informed through the best available science. This program will serve as a learning opportunity for students to interact with, and learn from, leaders in the respective fields that interact within regulatory science as it relates to agriculture.

We will assure an educated regulatory community, and one that is grounded in state-of-the-art science, by utilizing our networks and University systems to help train the next generation of scientists and regulatory professionals fully integrating our public private partnership in the regulatory pathway.

Program Overview

Currently, there is a lack of university programs in regulatory science specifically related to agriculture. We are developing a new program that will provide undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education opportunities in regulatory science, and also provide a forum for the advancement of regulatory science in agriculture. We will build on the wealth of opportunities already offered in CALS to provide a "Graduate Certificate in Regulatory Science in Agriculture".

A pillar of the proposed initiative is workforce development and training the next generation of scientists in key regulatory roles and safe innovations in agriculture. Program graduates are expected to take regulatory leadership roles in industry, government, and non-governmental organizations as well as in academia. We will work with our industry and Federal partners to continue to develop the curriculum and programs that fit their needs as employers. Required coursework will include existing and newly created courses in crop science, toxicology, aquatic ecology, etc.

Intent of the Graduate Certificate

Professionals who hold a Certificate in Regulatory Science in Agriculture from NC State will be able to demonstrate to current and future employers their evidence of mastery of the concepts of regulatory science. Students will learn the science, techniques and policies underpinning agriculture regulation as well as risk management, compliance, data assessment, and regulatory communications. This certificate is intended for those students who have completed a BS degree in agriculture, food or life science and need additional training in regulatory sciences in their respective fields. Students currently enrolled in a graduate degree will also be eligible to complete the certificate.

Market for Graduates

The Certificate for Agriculture Regulatory Science will support students who have completed a BS degree either in agriculture, food or life science. There is also a potential market for students currently enrolled in a graduate program. Searches of CareerShift, a national job database, using the keywords “agriculture regulatory science” produced 193 available positions on Sept. 8, 2018. The results included such positions as "Regulatory Affairs Specialist (Monsanto)" and "Regulatory Compliance Manager (Blue Apron)."

To provide a more specific estimation of potential market for a regulatory science certificate, we surveyed 254 individuals working in a broad range of agriculture and life science companies. We received 107 completed surveys, representing a 42% return rate. The excellent response rate is likely indicative of high interest in this topic. Of respondents, 93% said that one or more of employees in their company would like to get additional training in regulatory science in agriculture with 43% for indicating that one to two employees would be interested, 30% for 3 to 10 employees, and 20% for 11 or more employees.

Estimate for future demand was similarly high with 91% of respondents indicating that one or more future positions in their company would require or benefit from training in regulatory science in agriculture. Of these, 30% indicated that one to two employees would be interested, 37% for 3 to 10 employees, and 24% for 11 or more employees.

The majority of respondents (48%) thought that the need for people with training in regulatory science in agriculture will increase slightly over the next 5 to 10 years and 28% thought demand would increase substantially. Twenty-three percent thought demand would stay the same and one person (1%) thought demand would decrease.

Of the areas within agricultural, respondents were most interested in regulatory affairs (81%), compliance, regulation, policy and law (77%), risk management (66%), crop protection (58%), biologicals (56%), trait/gene editing (41%), and regulatory writing (39%) (respondents were allowed to select more than one area of interest). Two other areas were mentioned: eco and health risk assessment principles and GLP and conduct or monitoring of actual GLP scientific studies required for ag chem registration.

Application Process

Apply for admission to the graduate certificate program via the Graduate Application Portal (grad.ncsu.edu/apply/). To register for courses as a non-degree student, go to the Non-Degree Studies website (registrar.ncsu.edu/nds/). Courses are offered online in Fall and Spring.

To qualify for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Regulatory Science in Agriculture, students must have completed a BS degree in the sciences or engineering, including agriculture, biology, food, genetics, and life sciences from a regionally accredited university or a degree in a public affairs or political science related major. Students currently enrolled in a graduate degree program will also be eligible to complete the certificate.

Students must have at the time of application a 3.0 grade point average in their BS degree.

Please note that although academic success in the certificate might have a strong bearing on admission to a degree program, completion of the certificate program in no way guarantees entry into a graduate degree program, which is done through a separate application process.

Graduate Certificate Completion

Students must complete fifteen (15) hours of coursework and have a minimum of 3.000 grade point average (GPA) on all certificate coursework. The minimum grade to receive certificate credit for a course can be no lower than B-. Students who take letter-graded 500- and 700-level courses do not have the option of taking the courses for ‘credit only’ if they intend for the courses to be part of the graduate certificate.

Transfer credit from other institutions is not allowed for the graduate certificate. All course work must be registered through NC State University.

Up to twelve (12) hours of post-baccalaureate student (PBS) coursework, if not already used in another graduate program, may be transferred into the Graduate Certificate. All coursework must carry a grade of B- or better.

Up to twelve (12) hours of coursework taken while in another graduate program at NC State may be applied towards the Graduate Certificate. All such coursework must carry a grade of B- or better.

All certificate requirements must be completed within four (4) calendar years, beginning with the date that the student commences courses applicable to the certificate.

A student may obtain more than one certificate. Each certificate must have a least nine (9) credit hours that are unique to it.

Assessment Plan

This graduate level program will train students to 1) Identify and describe the major agricultural regulatory science principles, processes, and technologies and 2) apply agricultural regulatory science principles, processes, and technology to practical agriculture, food and life science questions in industry, governmental, non-governmental and academics settings.

Undergraduate Certificate – Regulatory Science in Agriculture

Introduction

Regulatory Science is a field critical to the advancement of responsible technologies for agriculture from concept, through research and development, to commercialization, and throughout a technology’s life.

Recognizing the importance of Regulatory Science to future innovation in agriculture and recognizing the leadership position that NC State has established in the arena of agricultural technology and innovation, the development of a Certificate Program in Regulatory Science in Agriculture is proposed.

In today’s climate, it is critical that “boots-on-the-ground” science is well represented to ensure regulatory decisions at all levels are informed through the best available science. This program will serve as a learning opportunity for students to interact with, and learn from, leaders in the respective fields that interact within regulatory science as it relates to agriculture.

We will assure an educated regulatory community, and one that is grounded in state-of-the-art science, by utilizing our networks and University systems to help train the next generation of scientists and regulatory professionals fully integrating our public private partnership in the regulatory pathway.

Program Overview

Currently, there is a lack of university programs in regulatory science specifically related to agriculture. We are developing a new program that will provide undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education opportunities in regulatory science, and also provide a forum for the advancement of regulatory science in agriculture. Initially, we will build on the wealth of opportunities already offered in CALS to provide a “Undergraduate Certificate in Regulatory Science in Agriculture”.

A pillar of the proposed initiative is workforce development and training the next generation of scientists in key regulatory roles and safe innovations in agriculture. Program graduates are expected to take regulatory leadership roles in industry, government, and non-governmental organizations as well as in academia. We will work with our industry and Federal partners to continue to develop the curriculum and programs that fit their needs as employers. Required coursework will include existing and newly created courses in crop science, toxicology, aquatic ecology, etc.
Intent of the Undergraduate Certificate

Professionals who hold a Certificate in Regulatory Science in Agriculture from NC State will be able to demonstrate to current and future employers their evidence of mastery of the concepts of regulatory science. Students will learn the science, techniques and policies underpinning agriculture regulation as well as risk management, compliance, data assessment, and regulatory communications. This certificate is intended for those students who are currently in a BS degree in agriculture, food or life science and need additional training in regulatory sciences in their respective fields.

Market for Graduates

The Certificate in Regulatory Science in Agriculture will support students who are currently enrolled in a BS degree either in agriculture, food or life science or as a Non-Degree Studies (NDS) student. Searches of CareerShift, a national job database, using the keywords “agriculture regulatory science” produced 193 available positions on Sept. 8, 2018. The results included such positions as “Regulatory Affairs Specialist (Monsanto)” and “Regulatory Compliance Manager (Blue Apron).” In reference to this certificate, Sara Lane, CALS Coordinator of Career Service stated “I've talked to so many employers in our industry who are desperate to hire professionals in regulatory affairs and data science, but they have tremendous difficulty finding people who have those skillsets and who understand agriculture and life science.”

To provide a more specific estimation of potential market for a regulatory science certificate, we surveyed 254 individuals working in a broad range of agriculture and life science companies. We received 107 completed surveys, representing a 42% return rate. The excellent response rate is likely indicative of high interest in this topic. Of respondents, 93% said that one or more of employees in their company would like to get additional training in regulatory science in agriculture with 43% for indicating that one to two employees would be interested, 30% for 3 to 10 employees, and 20% for 11 or more employees.

Estimate for future demand was similarly high with 91% of respondents indicating that one or more future positions in their company would require or benefit from training in regulatory science in agriculture. Of these, 30% indicated that one to two employees would be interested, 37% for 3 to 10 employees, and 24% for 11 or more employees.

The majority of respondents (48%) thought that the need for people with training in regulatory science in agriculture will increase slightly over the next 5 to 10 years and 28% thought demand would increase substantially. Twenty-three percent thought demand would stay the same and one person (1%) thought demand would decrease.

Of the areas within agricultural, respondents were most interested in regulatory affairs (81%), compliance, regulation, policy and law (77%), risk management (66%), crop protection (58%), biologicals (56%), trait/gene editing (41%), and regulatory writing (39%) (respondents were allowed to select more than one area of interest). Two other areas were mentioned: eco and health risk assessment principles and GLP conduct or monitoring of actual GLP scientific studies required for ag chem registration.

1. Statement of Justification for Program

The English Department’s Communication in the Workplace studies from the years of 1996-2018 have demonstrated consistently that writing skills are crucial to workplace success and advancement. While most students gain useful training through advanced writing requirements in their majors, one or two writing courses often is not enough to learn and practice techniques for successful writing and editing on the job. Employees often seek out additional writing instruction after completing their undergraduate degrees.

In order to meet this demand, the Department of English proposes to reinstate an undergraduate certificate program in Professional Writing that has long been tailored to non-degree-seeking (NDS) students looking to strengthen their skills in writing, editing, and document design for professional contexts. It emphasizes clear and accurate writing, editorial skills such as proofing and revising, and basic techniques needed for publication in professional contexts.

To provide history, we seek to re-establish an undergraduate certificate program that predates the official standardization of certificate programs at NC State and has over time fallen out of approval status. In 1980, Provost Nash N. Winstead first approved our undergraduate certificate on an “experimental basis.” After a 2-year review period in 1982 the UCCC recommended a 2-year extension to the program’s experimental status because NC State was planning a standardization of all Undergraduate Certificate programs. In 1987 Associate Provost Murray S. Downs officially approved our Undergraduate Certificate Program in Professional Writing after revisions to bring it into compliance with new guidelines (see Attachment, 1987 approval form).

Since the late 1980’s, the Department of English has enrolled NDS students in courses associated with our program and has recognized many students as having met the requirements of our certificate; however, we have learned that the university no longer formally recognizes our program on its list of certificate programs. The goal of this proposal is thus to reinstate an already-functioning program for which we know there is demand. Currently, 13 non-degree-seeking students are actively taking courses associated with our Professional Writing Certificate, and 39 students have filled out an interest form to begin the enrollment process.

The demand for improving communication skills on the job is steady and unmet by existing programs. The program provides members of the public access to extensive technological resources of NC State to improve their written communication skills, including our libraries, data visualization labs, and software programs. The program further increases the public’s direct access to experts in journalism, technical and professional writing, creative writing, and rhetoric and allows for sustained contact and learning experiences. Finally, the program introduces working professionals to additional degree avenues at NC State and has become a recruiting tool for bringing students into our Masters of Science degree program in technical communication.

2. Statement of Program Objectives/Outcomes

Students who earn the Undergraduate Certificate in Professional Writing will:

- Identify fundamental techniques and strategies for successful editing and document design practices
- Design and practice effective written communication appropriate for workplace contexts
- Apply written communication knowledge and design skills to the domains of journalism, technical communication, or creative writing

5. Catalog Description of Proposed Certificate
The undergraduate certificate program in Professional Writing is for non-degree-seeking students who wish to sharpen their publication skills and master the fundamentals of editing and writing for the workplace. The two required courses in editing and technical document design address editing, revision, planning, drafting, and designing documents for publication. Students choose three additional elective courses for the program based on their interests, and may focus their elective courses in journalism, technical writing, or creative writing.

6. Number of Certificate Recipients in the Past Five Years: N/A

7. Projected Enrollment
We expect around 65 students to enroll in the Professional Writing certificate over a five-year period. As stated above, 13 NDS students are actively pursuing courses in Professional Writing in the 2019/2020 academic year, and 39 have expressed interest in taking courses through an online enrollment form. Because there is no time limit to complete the certificate and students pursue coursework as is convenient, we project the enrollment to remain stable.

8. Admissions Requirements

Applicants must have completed the first year of college English or equivalent (credit, transfer credit, or credit by exam). Applicants must be enrolled as Non-Degree Studies (NDS) students and should not be concurrently seeking a degree at NCSU during the time of certificate courses. Applicants must submit an online form to the director of Professional Writing to begin the process of enrollment, and should be enrolled as NDS students by the deadline for NDS course registration.

9. Statement on Other Departments/Programs Likely to be Affected and Summary of Consultations:
No other programs are likely to be negatively affected. While there are related programs at NC State, each has a different audience and set of offerings. The Graduate School’s Writing Certificate is similar in its interest in fostering writing skills needed for disciplinary and professional success. However, this program is directed at current graduate students and postdocs. We consulted with Assistant Dean Laura Demarse from the Graduate School who offered her support for our proposed certificate. Similarly, the certificate in Professional Communication and Managerial Skills offered by the Communication Department is directed to a graduate-level audience and focuses specifically at the intersections of management and communication, with very different course offerings. We consulted with Professor Melissa Johnson from the Department of Communication who offered her support for our proposed certificate. Finally, the McKimmon Center’s Certificate in Professional Development includes some instruction on writing practices, but their short seminar courses differ significantly in content and format from what we have proposed. We consulted with Andy Billingsley, Manager for Customized Contractual Education, who agreed that our programs target different audiences.
